numerous friends were, yielded, unshackled, to aid in the advancement of the cause of Polk and Dallas. On his retirement from office, a strong movement is anticipated in favor of returning him to the U S. Senate, from Virginia. In this position he could materially aid the cause, and while he would do honor to the post, his splendid abilities would be fully appreciated.

A variety of opinions have of late been indulged in among what are termed the best informed political circles at Washington, as well as with certain letter-writers hence, in reference to the opinions and feelings of the Northern and Eastern States upon the Annexation question; and a most palpable error exists in the supposition that this portion of the Union is not in favor of it! From repeated and trequent conversations there with the leading men of both political parties, and members from those sections, I am thoroughly satisfied that this question is a decidedly popular one, both with themselves, as well as with a large majority of their constituents. In the New England States particularly, this question was brought forward as one of the first importance; the issue there in the late election was direct and unqualified in regard to it, and even in that strong hold of Abolitionism and Whiggery, the official result in the six States lately decided, shows an actual majority of the popular vote in favor of Polk and Texas! But aside from this—the fact is well known that this matter was thoroughly canvassed and boldly advocated, at all the popular assemblages and political gatherings, and the great leaders of the Democratic party in New England, openly avowed their support of the measure. Such men as Woodbury, Bancreft, Rantoul, and others who were in the field from the commencement to the termination of the campaign, in all their support of the measure. Such men as Woodbury, Bancreft, Rantoul, and others who were in the field from the commencement to the termination of the campaign, in all their supports of the measure. Such men as woodbury, Bancre

Congress, the record would display a majority of "ayes"

It is certainly a source of amasement to the quiet observer of men and manners, at this time, to watch the course of policy which latterly appears to be adopted by common agreement here, among the politiciaus and members from New York State Why it is, remains a secret in their own keeping, but they are playing their cards most reservedly, in their own way. No demonstration is made—no speculations or conversation can draw them out—no intimations are voucesfed, on their part, to indicate their future purposes—no contingency seems to stir them to ostensible action! Why is it? Is their game so deep that common lookers-on cannot p-netrate it? What is the object of their quiet. ness? Do they desire nothing? Do they expect nothing? Or will they make "one grand rush" when the proper moment arrives? Why all this showes? Is it on account of their extreme modestry? Bah! But who can answer? Aye, who? I do not now speak of your small fry—your sprespimps—"secret agents," and the like. When Wright, and Van Buren, and Tallmadge move then we shall see! But I tell you the New-York politicians are playing a shrewd and careful game and though they are "out It," desperately. What may come of it, time alone will develope.

I observed a day or two since, in a stray Eastern paper the name of David Henshaw, of Massa chuseits, coupled with the probability of a seat in Mr. Polk's Cabinet! The writer did not designath is place, but I have thought he would look we'll in the office of Secretary of the Navy again? His acquantance with South Boston lands, Commonwealth Bauk and kindred matters, would be valuable to facilitate the business of the department! As a specimen of his admirable financial abilities, it will be necessary only to refer to the commendable foresight he evinced while he occupied that post, temporarily, in the contract he effected for the article of clothing—agreeably with the terms of which the contractor has furnished the articles, until there is now actually on han were (p ntically) on "their beam ends," months ago!

There appears to be no further question in reference to the disposition of General Cass of Michigan. He will be sent to the United States Senate, from that State, in place of Porter, whose term expires with the present Session of Congress Letters have been received here quite recently, which state that the fact is understood at home, and that Cass will accept the trust. This is well. The Senate offers a fine field for his splendid powers, and it is the place where himself and hirrends will have by far the best opportunity of working out their plans for his ultimate benefit, in view of his chance for the successive in '48. Apart from this, the brilliant talents of Gen Cass will conduce to the material advantage of his party, in this position, and he is perfectly willing to serve them. With this exception, there appears to be no man of especial prominence, who willing to serve them. With this exception, there appears to be no man of especial prominence, who can be taken up from the west, for any very high instition. Mr. Douglass, from Illinois, who is a firm friend to annexation, and who possesses excellent talents, promises well, provided he does not proceed too fast, or fire too high. He will become a man of note? hereafter, if he does not allow his aspirations to injure him. Though he is ambitious, yet, to be successful, he will find that men of his age, qualifications and experience, must follow; he cannot lead at present. I have a story to unfold—but I will defer it to my next.

Yours,

Talleyrand.

[Correspondence of the Herald.] BALTIMORE, Jan. 4, 1845. The Legislature of Maryland-U. S. Senate-Inauguration of the New Governor-Office Seekers Fillingup Annapolis - Three Theatres open in Baltimore. The Legislature is now in session in Annapolis.

The whigs have elected all the officers in both A great contest is going on for U S. Senator and a caucus is to be held to-night by the whigs to decide who shall be the man. I have no doubt Reverdy Johnson will be chosen, as he ought to be.

The new Governor is to be maugurated on Monday next. He will make a good Chief Magistrate, though he is sorely run down by office seekers, most of whom stand about as much chance for appointment as Capt. Tyler does for re-election to the Presidency in 1848. Judicious appointments will be made, I am sure, and a general removal of all the "Old Hunkers" will take place. The fattest offices in this State are the Clerks of the Couris and the Registers of the Counties, and yet one of these have been held in the same families since the formation of the State government. Under the new constitution, all these are to go out. An effort will be made, "in course," by some of those who hold the lattest places, to keep in, but it will be all in vain—or if the new Governor should commit the great mistake of re-appointing them, the whis party would be swept from power in the State forever, at the very next election. The unpopularity of these real "Old Hunkers," is unbounded. In this city we have three of these offices, all of which will be changed. It is understood that the following persons will get the places:—Clerk of the Cuty Court, Judge James Harwood—office worth $10,000 a year. Clerk of the County Court, Judge James Harwood—office worth $10,000 a year. Register of wills, Colonel Isaac Muaroe, of the Baltimore Patriot—office worth $8,000 to $12,003 a year, according to the number of deaths. The present incumbent has amassed an immense fortune in it and desires to leave it—strange this! But the effice has been held by him twenty-five years, and by his father before him ever since the State Government wasformed. They both grew bulky and fat upon it, and the incumbent, by reason of his immense flesh, has difficulty in getting up the long range of stone steps to the office. This may account for his wanting to get clear of it. He signs for his "office mow, is intended to take them out of the field for the nomination at the next election. Mr. Gatchell named Mr. Pratt, the Governor of the eldeverest fellows in the world, and I here name him as the next whig candidate for Governor of the cleverest fellows in the world, and I here name him as the next whig candidate for G of whom stand about as much chance for appointment as Capt. Tyler does for re-election to the Pre-where I now am stopping for a few days. Miss C. is getting wonderfully lat, and in a year or two may exhibit herself as the "fat girl." I think she now weighs three hundred pounds. I hope the traps are well secured, as I tremble every time I see her step on them. Miss Clarendon, a wonderful actress, is now performing in her place at the Holliday. Her feat at Pittsburgh in whipping the Manager, ("in a horn") gives her great popularity. Burton is doing very well at the Front street.

Viator.

P. S. I have seen a gentleman who has just left the Governor elect. The following additional appointments are certain:

Colonization Agent—Col. Wm. R. Stewart, an "Old Hunker,"—Office worth "pickings."

Orphans' Court—B. B. Hodges, David Evans, Wm. Ward. Hunker,"—Office worth "pickings."
Orphans' Court—B. B. Hodges, David Evans, Wm. Ward.
Lottery Commissioners—S. C. Leskin and Jacob Small, both Ex. Mayors, and both "Old Hunkers."
Insolvent Commissioners—Neilson Poe, Abner Neel, Jas. Hance.
Warden of the Jail—Hugh W. Evans—an "Old Hunker."

THE COLUMBIA TYPOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY celebrated their thirtieth anniversary last Saturday evening by means of a super, provided at Congress Hall by Measrs. Jewett & King. This entertainment was conducted in temperance principles. About seventy gentlemen partook of the supper. The invited guests present were the Hon. John Quincy Adams, Hon. L. Severance, the Mayor of Washington, J. S. Gallagher, Esq. of the Virginia Senate, Mr. Harris, editor of the "Constitution," &c. Alter supper, thirteen regular toasts were drank. To complimentary toasts which were given during the entertainment the gentlemen above numed happily responded. Several odes written for the occasion by practical printers were sung with fine effect in the course of the evening. A number of volunteer toasts were also drank. The company separated about midnight greatly pleased with their evening's entertainment.—Nat Int., Ian. 6.
